

Coach, you are mostly right, just not sure the awakening is great.

Seems more like selective awakening to me. Not along ethnic lines particularly. Maybe along religious lines, I'm not sure.

I live in an upscale gated community of about 500 single family homes, 55+, mostly upper middle class retirees from all over the US, to here in central Florida. They seem disconnected from reality to me. My ventures into the city tell me there are a lot of dull, humorless people manning the stores and restaurants.

Last year we were being fumigated by the USG, almost every day, big doses of the stuff, sky-obscuring doses by eleven o'clock in the morning. I was able to alert some people, a few were responsive, the rest I don't think cared. People just walk along looking down mostly, never look up to see that the wonderful heavens above them were being sprayed with something. Are we being used as Guinea pigs? This is world wide, but seems mostly in the northern hemisphere. They've backed off considerably this year, but they are still spraying some.

There are adults in my family that you cannot talk with intelligently. They drop out of the conversation if you venture out of what they see on television. They seem to get it that Obama is destroying America, but not really grasping how, or believing for that matter. They just can't bring themselves to believe anyone can be so evil as to deliberately destroy a nation. I wonder if they would vote for Hillary if the mass mind control machine they are addicted to puts on an Evita blitz. A neighbor who is all in for Bernie, laughed when I said Obama is Muslim. He thought I was joking.

Something is seriously wrong with American's brains.

One of my daughters got the bright idea she wanted to move back to her home town in Richland county Ohio where industry has been stripped out and real estate taxes have become absurdly oppressive. For two years she's struggling to make ends meet working three part time jobs because no full time job is open to her. Yet the UN is sending counter culture immigrants into our towns and villages and making us pay their freight. Why do Americans put up with this bullshit?

Something is wrong with American brains.

One of my daughters jobs is with FedEx in Mansfield. Her bosses are a young unhappy, bitchy twenty something female and the local manager is an empty suit. There is no opportunity there for advancement. It's a stressful, boring dead end paper grind. A dishwasher kind of job. One of her other jobs is with wonderful people and a wonderful company, American Standard, now owned by a Japanese corporation. Wonderful people, but they can't hire her full time even though they would like to. Her third job is self employment, working for a PI. She has no future thanks to Obamacare.

Something is wrong.

I have yet to meet anyone who is a Hillary supporter. Where are all of them? I'm beginning to see this as a virtual reality political soap opera operated by criminal mobs.

Yeah there is an awakening, had to be after so many years of being screwed over, but will it take a really big oversized whopper to make it great?

I tell people if you really want to see where we are and where we are headed, learn all you can about the first two decades of the twentieth century and focus on Germany. American and German history are not identical, but there are similarities, patterns and commonalities. The very same meddlesome people who were manipulating Germany then are manipulating Germany and America now for the same reasons.